

PERANCANGAN SISTEM PERPUSTAKAAN ONLINE DENGAN MENGUNAKAN PENDEKATAN HUMAN COMPUTER INTERACTION

Kiky Rizky Nova Wardani¹⁾

1) Universitas Bina Darma, Jalan Jenderal Ahmad Yani No.12 Palembang
email : kikyrizkynovawardani@mail.binadarma.ac.id

Abstract. The library is a place or institution providers, information management and is one of a growing application of information technology. The development of her can be seen from the development of the type library. Libraries also a unit that supports the advancement in education as a mean of seeking knowledge, collection and dissemination of information. Such information can be developed and designed in the look and the content is more varied and dynamic. The design of this digital library using the approach Human Computer Interaction (HCI) and paper prototype with purpose, a library that was built later, closer to user, so that users feel comfortable and more interactive when using it. With the digital library as a medium of information can be accessed easily, anytime, and anywhere because it uses the internet media.

Keywords: Library, HCI, prototype, Computer, Human, interaction